

A Deeper Sense of Place

STORIES AND JOURNEYS OF INDIGENOUS-ACADEMIC COLLABORATION

Jay T. Johnson and Soren C. Larsen

FIRST PEOPLES

New Directions in Indigenous Studies

Oregon State University Press Corvallis

Contents

Introduction: A Deeper Sense of Place 7
JAY T. JOHNSON AND SOREN C. LARSEN

POETICS, POLITICS, PRACTICE

Footprints across the Beach:
Beyond Researcher-Centered Methodologies 21
SANDIE SUCHET-PEARSON, SARAH WRIGHT, KATE LLOYD, LAKLAK BURARRWANGA AND PAUL HODGE

Singing the Coast: Writing Place and Identity in Australia 41
MARGARET SOMERVILLE

In the Canoe: Intersections in Space, Time, and Becoming 55
RDK HERMAN

Anagyuk (Partner): Personal Relationships and the Exploration of Sugpiaq Fishing Geographies in Old Harbor, Alaska 73
LAURIE RICHMOND

The Micropolitics of Storytelling in Collaborative Research:
Reflections on a Mapping Project with the Cheslatta-Carrier Nation in British Columbia 85
SOREN C. LARSEN

Rocking the Boat: Indigenous Geography at Home in Hawai'i 103
KALI FERMANTEZ

REIMAGINING LANDSCAPE, ENVIRONMENT, AND MANAGEMENT

Kaitiakitanga: Telling the Stories of Environmental Guardianship 127
JAY T. JOHNSON

From Landscape to Whenua: Thoughts on Interweaving
Indigenous and Western Ideas about Landscape139
BRIAN MURTON

Toward a Paradigm of Indigenous Collaboration for Geographic Research in Canadian Environmental and Resource Management157
DEBORAH MCGREGOR

Indigenous and Western Science Partners in Climate Change
Assessment and Adaptation in Alaska179
SARAH F. TRAINOR

Reconciling Cultural Resource Management with Indigenous Geographies: The Importance of Connecting Research with People and Place195
RICK BUDHWA AND TYLER McCREARY

TELLING STORIES IN THE CLASSROOM

Awakening to Belonging217
ANNE GODLEWSKA

Contributors233

Index.239